

Drew has been attending Beulah Church since January 2024 and is excited to start their new role as the seminary intern. They are a second year Master of Divinity student at Pittsburgh Theological Seminary.

Originally from Salem, Virginia, Drew moved to Pittsburgh to begin seminary after graduating from Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, VA where they graduated with a B.A. in Religious Studies and Sociology and were on the pre-ministerial track. While in their studies, they also served as the administrative assistant for an interfaith nonprofit advocacy organization in Richmond.

Their passion in ministry is cultivating community and they are excited to do this at BPC. When not at the church, you will find Drew working on the chapel team and student association at the seminary, painting/drawing or crocheting, and facetimeing their twin brother and dad.